Professional Research Experience:

- Kansas Leadership Center, Third Floor Research, Sr. Associate for Research Innovation (2022). Provided oversight for a research team focused on multiple leadership development assessments. Lead researcher on a project examining leadership program participant outcomes and insights on correlations with community engagement and impact. Funded project.
- Kansas Leadership Center, Third Floor Research (2019-2020). Led a research team studying the effects of a sustained leadership development initiative on a non-profit organization with office locations across multiple states. Research questions tested outcomes on organizational efficacy, organizational commitment, workplace satisfaction, and employee confidence and likelihood to engage in an established set of leadership attitudes and behaviors. The study design included surveys and focus groups. Results and analysis drafted as a white paper disseminated by the Kansas Leadership Center.

National Co-Coordinator, UVote 2016 Research Team. One of four key directors who designed and coordinated data collection at over 30 research sites across the country regarding political campaign communication (ads, speeches, debates, media coverage, interpersonal communication) in the 2016 election cycle. The study focused on voters of all ages, analyzing their civic engagement and engagement with campaign communication.

National Co-Coordinator, UVote 2008-2012 Research Team. One of four key directors who designed and coordinated data collection at over 30 research sites across the country regarding political campaign communication (ads, speeches, debates, media coverage, interpersonal communication) in the 2012 election cycle. The study focused on 18-29 year olds, analyzing their civic engagement and engagement with campaign communication. Through this involvement I also directed a local research team, comprised of graduate and undergraduate students, collecting data at KU as a participating site and running a RTR dial technology focus group at the Dole Institute of Politics for the first presidential debate.

Team Member, UVote 2004 National Research Team. Aided in the design of the questionnaire and survey instruments utilized by 30 research sites across the US for research conducted in advertising studies and debate studies. The study focused on the 18-29 year old demographic and their reactions to presidential candidate messages in 2004. Organized and coordinated data collection at the University of Kansas.

Co-Director, 2002 Kansas Sentencing Commission Research Team. Co-directed a research project that examined citizen attitudes toward a proposed change in the Kansas sentencing laws. The project included focus groups followed by a statewide phone survey. Results analyzed and presented to the Kansas Sentencing Commission, which were in turn incorporated into the Commission's lobbying efforts of the state legislature; changes in sentencing guidelines, which were in accordance with citizen preferences, approved by the legislature in spring 2003 session.

Co-Director, 2002 Kansas Election Research Team. Co-directed a research project that examined the Kansas gubernatorial and attorney general primary races and the statewide general election. The project included three primary election focus groups and debate focus groups, as well as three statewide surveys that examined citizen perceptions of the candidates, legislature, media, and tested voter knowledge. In addition, the team collected candidate-generated and media-generated messages throughout the campaign for analysis.

Team Member, Election 2000 National Research Team. Aided in the design of the questionnaire and survey instruments utilized by 35 research sites across the US for research conducted in advertising studies, debate studies, and phone surveys. Assisted in the organization and coordination of the studies conducted at the University of Oklahoma.

Research Assistant (Dr. Lynda Lee Kaid, supervisor, fall 2000-summer 2001). Assisted with a project investigating reactions to various political communication messages in both a traditional setting and an Internet-simulated setting and with the analysis of results. Produced (layout, design) official publication of initial results in the "Political Advertising Research Reports" summer 2001 issue, edited by Lynda Lee Kaid. Funded by the Carnegie Foundation.

Research Assistant (Dr. Lynda Lee Kaid, supervisor, spring 2000-spring 2001). Assisted with a project investigating reactions to technical distortions in political spot advertising. Funded by the National Sciences Foundation.

Research Assistant (Dr. Lynda Lee Kaid, supervisor, spring 2000). Assisted with the assessment and revision of the OU Department of Communication's Major Assessment Exam given to senior undergraduate majors in their final core course. Funded by the University of Oklahoma College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.
